The creator in you

Englisch Translation of the German Article

„Der Schöpfer in Dir“

Magazin Lebensträume Mai 2015

During the last one and a half years, I have been working with financially and spiritually successful people in America, and I started to integrate their frequencies, in order to understand how success develops inside of them. These persons have in common that they are dynamic, fast and well connected. They immediately carry out what they feel intuitively. Before I had opened the energetic space completely, they were already there and did not think about why they would go there.

And then, I noticed that belief pattern from family systems, society or experiences from past lives prevent us from entering into new energies. If we clear these old pattern, success will follow automatically, independently from the vision. The spirit of successful people is immediately completely present. Success is coming to them from the field, because success is corresponding to their frequency.

Belief pattern in the family

In my family, for example, there was this „Not being good enough“. However, in my school class, there was a boy whose father was extremely successful, also on the heart level. In this family, there existed wealth on all levels. I spent some time with said classmate, and soon, my life had changed completely. Thanks to the contact to his father, programs of my childhood came up in me and lost their power. I felt that my dreams and my soul became more lively and things materialized in my life. I realized that I could make it. This frequency brought new paths into my field on which success came to me. So later on, for example, within only seven months, I was able to create, out of the vacuousness, several houses which I possessed. Years later, during the process of my awakening, I fully connected with my soul and the realization that we are creators, and I organized my life accordingly. I felt my heart wish and then, I let it go into the universe which fulfilled this wish in a most creative way. Things materialized in the moment I was really able to let them go.

Honouring the systems

Later on, I understood why the other class mates were not that successful. There was jealousy, judgement and rejection with reference to the success of others. Myself, in contrast, I was happy when I saw success, I honoured it and thus, success came to me. Appreciation opens the field of success. Some people do not know how to realize their projects on the practical level, but their dream is like a strong magnet which is attracting correspondent „helpers“. If this is in the flow, connections may be established.

For this purpose, I want to invite you. Open your essence, honour all parts of your reality, so that they may integrate and may work for you and your soul. If you stay with your vision with love, passion and devotion, the field will support you from all sides. We ourselves are the limitation, we create structures and programs which we took on from outside. If we let melt these external structures and programs, there is no limitation anymore, and you open yourself for the possibility that the universe may support you in your highest potential.

Your soul knows that you are good enough and wants to activate lifeforce in your heart. Then, you can enjoy what is and go on, if your frequency changes. Many people are growing with the experiences they own, they use each opportunity to become stronger und to create new. Integrate the experience and do not give it away from you (in the sense of „It is his/her fault...!“), but bring it into your consciousness. Thus, you will suddenly notice that each day, each minute is perfectly designed for you.

Trust

Inhale the information into a new level within you, where you can consciously assume that you are the creator of your life, that each second was perfectly designed in order to support you in your development.

Surrender and trust your creation and your instincts.
